Berenblum Busch Architects is a Miami-based global architecture, planning and interior design firm improving the quality of spaces through human-centric design. Founded in 2010 by industry leaders Gustavo Berenblum and Claudia Busch, the firm offers clients a collaborative design process resulting in a bespoke response to their needs that is shaped by their identity and values and takes into consideration the unique physical and cultural context of the project. With over 40 years of joint experience, the principals work closely with their team of exceptional designers in a practice that places technology, function, sustainability and the advancement of the human experience at the center of its work.

Every day,
we're driven
to create
spaces in which human beings live
better, work
smarter,
and dream
bigger.

And we do this better than anyone else
because we work and live by a code that defines us—not only
as a firm, but also as individuals.

Passion

We build it into every project, because it's the catalyst for greatness.

Responsiveness

We show up focused, prepared, passionate and ready to go every time. No exceptions.

Innovation

Creating spaces that inspire requires us to think beyond “what is” and push for “what can be.”

Collaboration

We know the best results are achieved when we all work together.

Practicality

While we love designing spaces that are beautiful, we also know that they need to be efficient, functional, and feasible.
